DON'T FORGET THE CARILLON SERVICE PROJECT AT 7:00 PM ON DECEMBER 22 & 23! Please bring a small flashlight with you.

Fall Fellowship a Success! 289 Arrowmen Participate in Weekend of Training & Awards

The Nawakwa Lodge #3 2004 Fall Fellowship was a great weekend of fun, fellowship, and learning. Saturday started out with many interesting training sessions including Event Planning, Chapter Meetings, OA Troop/Team Rep., Brotherhood, Goal Setting, Ceremonies, Unit Elections, Chapel Service, Elangomat Program, Dance Team, and NOAC.

After lunch, Arrowmen chowed down on cotton candy, snow cones, and popcorn. Then followed the Chapter Olympics. Chapters competed in such events as football, ultimate Frisbee, volleyball and Order of the Arrow Trivia. Arrowmen could also participate in other fun activities. Arrowmen with a thirst for violence could dunk Matt Beach and other Lodge officers at the dunking booth. The shotgun range was open for those who wanted to blow pieces of clay apart. Those with a thirst for history could hop a shuttle to the Nawakwa Scouting Museum.

One could also participate in Native Americans activities such as axe throwing, dancing, and the striping, treating, and curing of animal hides. I thought that this last station was especially interesting. First, the fur and fat was stripped off of the hide. Then the hide was treated with the brains of the animal (Yes, the brains!) in a long process of kneading, twisting and pulling. Then the treated hide is left out to dry and then stretched out. Lastly, the hide is smoked, and it is finally ready. The particular hide that was being prepared this weekend was going to be used to make a vest for the dance team.

Following the afternoon activities was the highlight of the weekend-the Fall Fellowship Awards Banquet. After a feast of London broil, the awards ceremony started. Awards presented included the Founder's Award, The James E. West Fellowship Award, chapter awards, and most of all, the Vigil Honors for 2004. (For award recipients, see pages 8-9.) The Chapter Olympics, which included spirit and many other aspects, not just the sports, was deemed a tie between Pamunkey 7 and Karakona 19. Following the Awards Banquet, a very successful patch auction, with Scott Street substituting as auctioneer for Roy Page, raised $1822 for lodge projects. Sunday morning, Arrowmen attended a chapel service followed by an impressive rededication ceremony.

The overwhelming theme of the weekend was Brotherhood. Arrowmen were encouraged to earn The Brotherhood Award (not to be confused with the membership status). To earn the award, one had to attend 3 of 4 training sessions, participate in the Chapter Olympics, and meet a Lodge Officer, among other things. Many Arrowmen earned the award, and I believe that the weekend was a huge success.

My Brothers:

Wow what a year! I know that this year being the 85th anniversary we made some history in it. The biggest thing would have to be we have earned National quality lodge for the 27th straight year—the most in the country. I thank you all for making that possible. From the Arrowmen sealing their membership in the Brotherhood to the lodge and chapter officers who work the hardest all the time, thank you!

So what's to come? This December we have our annual Carillon Service Project at Byrd Park on the 22nd and 23rd at 7:00 PM. This is a great way for us to have fellowship time with each other just before the holiday start up. Also a tradition for us is to go have Krispy Kreme Donuts after the second night, so come out (with a small flashlight) and help out our community.

I challenge each and every one of you to set goals for yourself for this next year. For those who attended the Fall Fellowship and participated in the Brotherhood award, take those three goals and run with them. Those who didn't attend

I challenge you to set three goals for what you are going to do for your lodge, chapter, troop, and self in 2005.

I wish you all a safe holiday season, and I would like to invite everyone to come out the Lodge Executive Committee Meeting on January 2nd at 2:00 PM at the Council Headquarters. Lets start 2005 off great!

> Yours in Service, Matt Beach

Adviser's Minute

Brethren,

Congratulations! You have earned National Quality Lodge for the 27th connective year. This is an accomplishment that you should take pride in because of the Brotherhood of Cheerful Service and teamwork that made it possible.

The 2005 SR-7A Conclave is being held from

April 29th – May 1st. You are the host. If you plan to attend please complete the enclosed registration form and send it in today. It will be a great event and one that you should put high on your to do list this year.

The Carillon service project is December 22nd and 23rd at 7:00 PM. This annual event is our opportunity to give cheerful service to our community and to have a good time doing it. You are the key ingredient in the annual Christmas Pageant. You hold and change the sets for each act of the pageant. This is done in partial darkness, so please bring a small flashlight with you. This is an excellent opportunity to provide service to our community.

Thank you for all that you have done for Scouting and The Order this past year. Your acts of cheerful service have made a difference in the lives you have touched. May the peace and joy of the holiday season be yours today and throughout the coming year!

News Briefs

Due to space constraints, the following brief articles are presented in this issue. Please visit http://www.Nawakwa.com/tomtom/ for the complete or expanded versions of these stories.

Ceremonial Team Wins Big at NOAC

The Preordeal Team brought home National Medal Honor Ceremonial Team medals, as they have every year since the evaluations process started in 1996. The Brotherhood Team brought home National Medal Honor Ceremonial Team, too! In addition, Matt Beach was evaluated as a National Medal Honor Ceremonialist in Vigil Honor.

The Team also presented a recreation of the Ritual for the First Degree at the Order of the Arrow Museum. Matt Beach portrayed Medeu, Sakima was Brooks Child, the Medicine Man was Jake Scanlon, Harrison Hankins portrayed Nutiket, and Pow Wow was Andrew Kapelewski. The Team received certificates for their participation in this historical ceremony from approximately 1925. Several Nawakwa members worked as staff members on the National OA Shows crew and participated in the Theme Show and the candlelit rededication ceremony that followed.

Dance Team Busy This Fall

The Dance Team performed service by presenting Native American dance and culture at a large National Home Health Care gathering. They also assisted two other lodges with instructing Indian Lore merit badge sessions at the Blackstone Merit Badge Weekend.

National Museum of the American Indian

Nawakwa member Frances Broaddus-Crutchfield had the opportunity to march in the Grand Opening Procession for the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian in Washington, D.C. She marched as an honorary member of the Intertribal Women's Circle.

Ceremonial Team Needs Help

The Ceremonial Team is looking for someone with good sewing skills to help us replace 24 shirts for the principles and torchbearers. Our costuming is now nearly ten years old, and the shirts have reached the end of their useful life. If you are good with a sewing machine, patterns, and material, and you would like a way to help out that doesn't involve hours of sweating in the woods on weekends, please contact Tray Murphy at 804-745-6730 or by email at tray@jgmurphy.org. The Team will cover all costs for materials, we need your skills! Thanks!

Reflections on Nawakwa Lodge of "Yesterday"

Being as this year marks the 85th anniversary of our great lodge, the Tom-Tom has decided to run a series of articles telling what the lodge was like, "back in the day." In continuation of this series, we asked Bill McKim, former Lodge Adviser and current Administration Adviser, to reflect on his experiences on OA life in the 1960s to the 1980s. We encourage those of you who have grown up in the Order to submit your memories to be published so that we can share our stories with the youth. Please send your submissions to our email address: TheTom-Tom@Nawakwa.org. –Thomas Howard, Editor

Membership:

In 1967, the lodge membership was approximately 300 (youth & adults). By 1982, it was just over 400 members, and we reached a new high again in 1986 with 800 members. Election to the Order was much more restrictive than it is now. It used to be the case that the maximum number of eligible names on a ballot from which to elect new members didn't exceed half the number who were eligible, and it was restricted by the number of active boys in the unit. For example, a unit with 3 or 4 boys eligible could list on the ballot only 1 name for election unless there were at least 15 boys active in the unit, and then a maximum of 2 names could be listed. Furthermore, a unit with 9 or 10 boys eligible could list on the ballot only 3 names for election if there were 30 or fewer active boys in the unit, 4 names if there were 31 to 44 active boys in the unit, and a maximum of 5 names if there were at least 45 boys active in the unit. In contrast, today all boys who are eligible are listed on the ballot, and it is possible that all eligible boys are actually elected to membership in the Order.

It should also be noted that it was extremely rare to bestow the Vigil Honor upon a member. Only about 50 lodge members had received this honor through 1973. This was due in part to national guidelines and because few lodge members were eligible. In 1974, Nawakwa was permitted its largest "class" of Vigil Honor members to date with 5 youth and 5 adults.

Ordeals:

The November 1967 Ordeal, with 60+ candidates, was the largest to date in the history of the lodge. Candidates were under the direction of an Ordeal Master and his assistants, the Task Masters. Candidates never moved from one place to another without "linking-up" by placing their hands on the shoulder of the Scout in front of them. The silence aspect of the induction was strictly enforced. Each candidate carried a stick in his back pocket. A Scout's stick was notched by the Task Master if he was caught talking without good cause (e.g. safety, emergency, etc.). Three notches on a Scout's stick, and he was sent home! Each candidate was interviewed just prior to his induction ceremony to see of he felt that he had adhered to all of the ordeal requirements. While the ordeal procedures have changed since then, the food for the candidates and the ceremonies remain essentially unchanged.

Food service today is greatly improved over what we experienced in the early days of Camp T. Brady Saunders. At that time, food service was performed at Partee Lodge (now the Nawakwa Scouting Museum) which was an open-sided shelter with a fireplace. Cooking was done on old army field kitchen stoves, a far cry from our current gas- and electric-powered appliances in the Dining Hall.

Pow-Wows (Conclaves):

These were held just as they are today with the same purpose—training and fellowship. Between 1967 and 1982, Nawakwa Lodge #3 was in Area III-C with 11 other lodges from the states of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and Pennsylvania as well as from the District of Columbia. Our lodge hosted the Pow-Wows of 1969 (2000 delegates) at the Virginia State Fairgrounds (now the Richmond Raceway Complex) and of 1979 at Fort A.P. Hill (now the recurring site of the National Scout Jamboree). Nawakwa also hosted at Camp T. Brady Saunders the Conclave of 1989 for Section SE-8 (consisting of 7 lodges from Virginia) and the Conclave of 1999 for Section SR-7A (our current section, which consists of 6 lodges from Virginia).

Lodge Operations:

Before the 1980s, four ordeals were conducted each year three (February, June, November) were held at our council camp, while a fourth (August) was held at Camp Eagle Point. A daylong father-and-son event was hosted each October, while the Banquet was a separate event held each December. The number of functions conducted by the lodge was reduced at the request of the Council Camping Committee, as they were concerned that our many lodge events might interfere with unit, district, and council programs. The Lodge Executive Committee readily agreed as a lodge member's primary focus should be on service to his unit.

Chapters were not introduced into our lodge until 1969. Every management function was handled on a lodge-wide basis except for unit elections—each district had its own youth chairman and adviser for unit elections. Lodge officers consisted of four youth: Lodge Chief, Vice-Chief, Secretary, and Treasurer. Assisting them were various committees, as is the case today. Unlike today, back then campaigns and elections for lodge officer positions were very spirited and highly contested with large numbers of youth seeking leadership positions.

Reflective Summary:

As I look back over my 37 years as a Nawakwa Arrowman, I do miss "the good ol' days", BUT I also look forward to an even greater future for Nawakwa Lodge #3.

NOAC 2004: A Nawakwa Member's Perspective

This August, ten members of our lodge traveled to Ames, Iowa's Iowa State University to take part in the largest and most spectacular of all OA events: the National Order of the Arrow Conference or NOAC. Exactly 6,504 Arrowmen were in attendance this year, coming from all over the country. In fact, there were even a few brothers from "across the pond" as well (including our new National Vice Chief, who hails from Germany). The purpose of NOAC is to bring representatives from as many lodges as possible into one place so that they may enjoy a tremendous fellowship, learn new skills, find out how other lodges do things, and most of all, have an incredible experience.

Here's a rundown of this Nawakwa member's experience. First off, we arrived at ISU late in the day on Saturday, weary from almost twelve hours of travel. With the opening show starting, we hustled down to the main auditorium in just enough time to hear speeches from the National Scout Executive, the National Vice Chief, and finally the National Chief. Having never seen any officers higher than our own section, this is a great memory for me.

All the while, we were in the company of thousands of Arrowmen, filling the auditorium to capacity. Looking out on the crowd, I was shocked to see how many other Scouts and Scouters shared and embraced the same principles that I had accepted in my Ordeal. This feeling of grand fellowship did not dissipate but instead strengthened as the week went on.

The next few days were filled with various training classes, features such as "Meet the Man," where anyone can ask questions of national leaders and special guests, and visits to all the interesting areas and exhibits of NOAC. TOAP (the Total Outdoor Adventure Place) was one such area. It had everything from hatchet throwing to trash can cooking plus a Philmont "Leave No Trace" training area. Another place of interest was the Outdoor Expo—a two story exposition of many outdoor venders and their newest products. In that same area was the National OA Museum, which displayed hundreds of priceless artifacts from the Order's past. That exhibit also had a display of one flap from every lodge and one strip from every council.

Of course, the other seven youth members of our contingent were a little busier than I because they were our lodge's strongest ceremonialists and competed in the Pre-Ordeal, Brotherhood, and Vigil ceremonies throughout the first few days. You will all be proud to know that our teams earned Honor level medals in every one of those categories and now rank among the top ten teams in the nation. They also competed in a reenactment of the original Ordeal ceremony performed nearly one hundred years ago at the very first inductions. I must say it was very different from how we do it today.

Of course there were sports as well including the fine sport of patch trading! Traders and more traders converged on the swapping hot spots throughout NOAC where thousands of patches changed hands. Patch trading was a huge opportunity for me (a first time delegate to NOAC) to meet new people and learn more about the Order.

Near the end of the week when classes were finished, all of us went down to enjoy the Founders Day Fair, which was composed of booths from many lodges, regions, and organizations. After visiting every booth, I came away with a full shopping bag of freebies, several screen-printed shirts, and many great memories. Each night after dinner was punctuated with a different show. One night had speeches from national officers and high ranking Scouters, another was award winning

American Indian dancing, and on the last night was a huge final show complete with actors, whom I guess you could call ceremonialists (our own Jacob Scanlon was one of them), and of course lots of pyrotechnics!

After that final show we all took part in a NOAC rededication ceremony that was followed by fireworks and ice cream. For me, though, it was a rather reflective time because I knew we'd all be going home soon. Hopefully the things we've brought home with us (aside from loads of patches) will let a little part of NOAC 2004 live on through us.

Ceremonialists:

Pre-Ordeal: Allowat Sakima: Jacob Scanlon, Meteu: Brandon Ray, Nutiket: Matthew Beach, and Kichkinet: Andrew Kapelewski Brotherhood: Allowat Sakima: Brooks Child, Meteu: Brandon Ray, Nutiket: Harrisson Hankins, and Kichkinet: Andrew Kapelewski Vigil: Matthew Beach

Staff who were from Nawakwa:

Tray Murphy, John Gasink, Scott Verbeke, Troy Herndon, Donnie Gladfelter

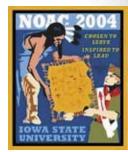

Oh, and for those of you wondering, NOAC 2006 will be hosted at Michigan State University. Believe me, if you go you won't regret it!

A Call to the 12th Point

Do you want to be more involved in the OA? Do you want to be involved in more than one committee? The Nawakwa Lodge #3 Chapel Service Committee is the place for you. If you like to sing you can lead a song or join the Nawakwa Choir. If you can play an instrument, we'll find a song for you to play. Even if you just want to help, you can lead a prayer, the reading, the responsive reading, or simply pass out the bulletins before the service.

For those who feel strongly motivated to speak their minds, they will have the opportunity to lead a chapel service. With your help, we can meet our committee goals of increasing membership and youth participation. Furthermore, adults are also welcome to help. The Chapel Service Committee also wants to create a committee roster, and most of all, the Chapel Service Committee wants to have a youth committee member other than the chairman lead a service. If you would like to join this invigorating committee, please contact me (Andrew Kapelewski) at xxx-xxx or xxxxxx@xxxxx.xxx. Thank You.

Congratulations

Congratulations to the following Arrowmen who became members of the Order by completing the Summer Ordeal in September. These new brothers are eligible for Brotherhood after 10 months of membership has been attained (Summer Ordeal, September 9-11, 2005).

Founder's Award

The nationally recognized Founder's Award was created and presented at NOAC in 1981 as a means to honor and recognize those Arrowmen who have given outstanding service to their lodge. The award is reserved for an Arrowman who demonstrates to fellow Arrowmen that he or she memorializes in his or her everyday life the spirit of achievement as described by founder E. Urner Goodman and cofounder Carroll A. Edson.

James E. West Fellowship

James E. West was the first Chief Scout Executive and served in that position for more than three decades. The West Fellowship award is available for gifts of onethousand dollars or more to the Council Endowment Fund. This is one of the best ways to ensure that the Heart of Virginia Council can continue to offer outstanding programs and grow to meet the needs of the youth and communities that it serves. Nawakwa Lodge #3 gave its first James E. West Fellowship in 1999. The 2004 recipient of the James E. West Fellowship is Monte L. West (no relation to James E. West).
